TRAINMEN INJURED WHEN ENGINE HITS REAR OF FREIGHT

Conductor and Flagman Hurt
In Rear End Collision in South Yards

CABOOSE REDUCED TO MASS OF DEBRIS

Track Blocked By Wreckage and Traffic Delayed Several Hours

Two trainmen were injured, one of them seriously, in a rear-end collision between a light engine and a freight train in the south yards of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, in this city, yesterday morning.

As a result of the wreck Harry Mitchell, conductor in charge of the freight train, is confined to his home on Henderson street, suffering from a number of cuts about the head and body, and concussion of the brain. Holt Henry, a flagman on the same train is suffering from a badly wrenched back and is considerably bruised.

The wreck occurred yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock a short distance beyond the yard limits and near the junction of the Lexington and Knoxville divisions.

A light engine in charge of P. H. Marquis was going down the steep grade and crashed into the freight which was on the main line. The freight was in charge of Conductor Mitchell and Engineer Frank Burton. They were using the main line in switching several freight cars. Conductor Mitchell and Henry were in the caboose, which was standing on the main line, all preparations having been made to move the train, Henry having been called in from his flagging station.

Whether Engineer Marquis, running the light engine, was running at an excessive speed, or whether he lost control of the locomotive on the steep grade, has not been determined. Before the occupants of the caboose had time to realize their danger, the engine had dashed into the rear end of the freight train.

The caboose was reduced to a mass of wreckage by the force of the impact and the occupants hurled from their positions and partly covered by the debris. The engine was derailed but the crew escaped without injury. Assistance was rendered the men in the wrecked caboose and they were removed within a short time. Mitchell was bleeding from his numerous wounds and medical aid was given him at once. He was removed to his home by the attending physicians. Henry was taken to his home on South Main street.

The Paris wrecking crew was rushed to the scene and the track cleared of the wreckage and the engine again placed on the track. Traffic was delayed about three hours as a result, all of the South bound trains being held in this city until the wreckage could be cleared.

At a late hour last night Mitchell was resting as comfortably as could be expected although throughout the day he suffered considerably from his injuries.

SUBURBAN LAND TRACT IS SOLD FOR $11,343.

The house, which is a handsome two-story brick residence of eleven rooms, and thirty-three acres of land was sold to David Allen for $7,745; and Dr. D. S. Henry bought the remaining twenty-five acres for $3,598, making the farm bring a total of $11,343. Cows were sold at $100 each; horses at $150 each; hogs $7.75 apiece; cattle, $36.75 a head; chickens, 75 each; corn, $4.10 a barrel. Farming implements and household goods sold for fair prices. DISPUTE OVER ACCOUNT ENDS IN SHOOTING

C. W. Wiggins, Incensed at Attachment, Wounds
C. F. Mann

Gun User Is Arrested But Gave Bond For His Appearance

As a result of a dispute over an account Charles P. Mann, one of the proprietors of the Paris Billiard Parlors, was shot and slightly wounded yesterday afternoon by C. W. Wiggins, a Louisville & Nashville railroad brakeman. The shooting occurred in the pool room on the East corner of Main and Fifth streets.

There were several witnesses to the affair, the pool room being crowded. Only one shot was fired the bullet from a 38 caliber revolver in the hands of Wiggins, taking effect in Mann's left arm near the elbow.

The trouble arose over an account which Mann held against Wiggins, which, it is said, had been placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, and resulted in a garnishment being brought, Wiggins' salary being held up by the order of court.

He entered the pool room about two o'clock yesterday afternoon and began to discuss the matter with Mann, who was standing behind the counter. According to witnesses only a few words passed between them when Wiggins drew his revolver from his pocket and fired. Mann, it is said, made an effort to get his revolver when a number of bystanders interfered and prevented him from securing the weapon. After shooting Mann, Wiggins, with his revolver in his hand walked to the corner where he was taken into custody by Jailer Joe Farris, who was on the opposite corner when the shot was fired, and attracted by the report of the revolver was going to investigate. Wiggins was taken to the store of January & Connell where he arranged for bond for his appearance in court.

He gave bond in the sum of $300 for his appearance in court to answer to the charge of shooting with intent to kill.

The wound suffered by Mann, while painful is in no manner a serious one. He was taken to his home on East Eighth street where his injuries were attended.

STATE GAME WARDEN URGES PROTECTION OF THE QUAIL

State Game Warden George M. Hill, of this city, is exerting every effort to impress the farmers and sportsmen of this and adjoining counties with the importance of protecting quail during the cold weather, and especially during the period when the ground is covered with snow, and when they have practically no food upon which to subsist.

Farmers upon whose places there are known to be quail are asked to supply small grain, and scatter it about in places where the birds are known to frequent. This will prove a great help in prolonging the lives until a more favorable season when they will seek their own food.

"If this course is followed by the farmers generally," said Mr. Hill, "there will be a bountiful crop of the birds when the season for hunting opens. The lack of interest upon this point has been responsible for the death of quail in large number and the result is a short crop of birds. This is the season when food should be furnished them."

RURAL ROUTE CARRIER HURT WHEN VEHICLE OVERTURNS.

Robert Kenney, a rural route carrier, suffered a badly sprained back yesterday morning when his buggy was overturned in front of the home of Mr. Frank Clay, on the Winchester pike. Mr. Kenney was thrown from the vehicle with great force when he attempted to drive through a snow drift. His injury was such as to necessitate his returning to this city and a substitute was sent out to serve the patrons on the route.

NEGRO WOUNDED BY SALOON MAN MAY SUCCUMB

Reuben Henderson Shot in Back Has Slight Chance
For Recovery

OFFENSE DHARGED TO J. J. CURTIS

Arrested and Placed Under Bond For Appearance in Court

Reuben Henderson, a negro, was shot and probably fatally wounded Friday shortly before midnight. Jas. J. Curtis, proprietor of a saloon near the Louisville & Nashville depot, is charged with the shooting, and is under bond awaiting developments in the case of Henderson, who is at the St. Joseph Hospital, in Lexington.

The shooting, it is said, occurred in Curtis' saloon on Tenth street, and was the result of a trivial difference. Henderson was employed as porter at the place. There were several witnesses to the affair.

Henderson, it is said, had gone to the saloon with a message from Curtis' wife, which he delivered, and this incurred the anger of the proprietor, who secured a weapon from a drawer in the counter, and fired at the man as he was going out one of the doors leading from the saloon.

It was not thought the bullet had struck the negro, who continued to run, and it was not known that he had been injured until some time after, when Henderson was found in the Louisville & Nashville yards a short distance from the saloon. He was in a semi-conscious condition, and was suffering considerably from exposure. Upon examination it was found that the bullet had entered the back a few inches above the hip and had passed entirely through his body.

At two o'clock Saturday morning he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in an automobile, where an operation was performed in the hope of saving his life. His condition is very critical and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

A warrant was issued Saturday for the arrest of Curtis, and he was taken into custody by Patrolman King. He was later released on bond.

County Attorney George Batterson went to Lexington yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking an ante-mortem statement from the negro.

A message received from Lexington last night stated that Henderson's condition was very grave and he was not expected to survive the night.

ENGINE SPLIT SWITCH AND JUMPED TRACK.

Engine No. 155 drawing northbound train No. 34 split a switch at the Winchester street crossing yesterday morning and jumped the track. The train was running at a low rate of speed and little damage resulted. Another engine was procured here and the train proceeded to Cincinnati a few minutes late.

SMALL POX SORE IS OVER; NO DANGER OF SPREAD

The small pox scare, which alarmed the citizens of this city and county several weeks ago, causing a general order for vaccination to be issued by the health authorities, has about subsided and no danger of a further spread of the disease is anticipated.

City Health Officer Dr. A. H. Keller stated yesterday that there were no cases of the disease in this city, all of the patients now being confined in the pest house and they are rapidly recovering.

THEATRICAL.

"THE FIREFLY."

—To all lovers of good music, the presentation of Miss Edith Thayer in Arthur Hammerstein's latest musical contribution, "The Firefly," is a revelation of what a composer of artistic music can accomplish in lifting an operatic organization above the plane of commonplace musical comedy.

To the playgoer who has heaped applause upon attractions that have depended upon paper, mache noses, artificial and crude devices for their humor, "The Firefly" proves that beautiful and lasting music and that clean and clever humor belong hand-in-hand in the arrangement of an operatic attraction, that one cares to have linger long in one's memory. "The Firefly" carries the playgoer into scenes gay with color and merriment. It effervesces with melody in its solo numbers and in chorus ensembles its music is rapturous. Ecstatic dances and esthetic scenes effects from an appealing background to lend color to a delightfully romantic story.

Miss Thayer will be seen in the pleasing and effective roles first as a little Italian street singer, then, toward the latter part of the first act, disguising herself as a boy, to escape from her cruel father.

There is not a moment, when Miss Thayer is on the stage, that her childlike pater does not amuse the audience. She is graceful, coquettish, a rowdy little tomboy in turn, and she displays so much energy in acting her part that one cannot help but be impressed that she is more animated and fascinating than many another prima donna of greater renown.

The author Otto Lauferback, has provided the appealing, humorous and sometimes pathetic story, about which Rudolf Friml has entwined the entrancing musical setting of "The Firefly," which come to the Ben All Theatre, Lexington, February, 24th and 25th, with Wednesday matinee.

"THE SUNSHINE GIRL."

Charles Frohman will present Julia Sanderson in the triumphal musical comedy success "The Sunshine Girl" at the Lexington Opera House for an engagement of one night, Thursday, Feb. 19. The complete organization that ran all last season at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, will be seen there, coming direct from the ten-weeks' run at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston. The history of "The Sunshine Girl" is remarkable. It was originally produced by George Edwards, the famous London manager, at his Gaiety Theatre in London, and ran there for two years before Chas. Frohman secured the American rights and brought it over to introduce his newest star, Julia Sanderson. With this winsome little woman in the title role, the piece ran all last season in New York to capacity business and was easily the one big musical hit of the Metropolitan season. The score is by Paul Rubens and is said to be by far the most tuneful ever imported from London. Charles Frohman is sending the original New York cast and chorus of over 100 people to Lexington. Prominent in the cast are Joseph Cawthorn, Alan Mudie, Flossie Hope, Yra Jeanne, Florence Morrison, William Sellery, Fred Leslie and Queenie Vassar.

MOTHER! IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipated poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled. (Feb)

LEADING AUTO MFRS. WILL EXHIBIT CARS

Once a year the leading automobile manufacturers of the country send approximately $1,000,000 worth of automobiles to Cincinnati purely for exhibition purposes. This annual "Million Dollar Auto Show" will be given this year, as heretofore, at Music Hall, under the auspices of the Cincinnati Automobile Dealers' Association, an organization of local representatives and distributors whose operations are not limited to Cincinnati, but who do business with dealers in various portions of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky.

This year's "Million Dollar Auto Show" opens on Saturday, February 21, when the classiest and most popular makes of pleasure cars will be shown, this department continuing until Saturday, February 28. On March 2, the following Monday, a supplementary show, devoted entirely to the display and exploitation of motor trucks and general service vehicles, will be inaugurated, to run for a period of three days.

The fact that this year's exhibition has been split up into two sections is due to the extraordinary demand for space, the number and magnitude of the displays of both pleasure cars and service trucks exceeding those of previous years. This means that prospective buyers, whether dealers, private citizens seeking any grade of pleasure car, or business men, desirous of getting up to date by handling their deliveries on motor trucks, will find a greater variety of motor-driven vehicles to select from than ever before were shown in the Ohio Valley.

Nor will the display of motor cars be the only attraction to take the public to Music Hall during the time of the show. Arrangements have been made for concerts every afternoon and evening by the noted Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, with soloists from time to time. Special demonstrations by the various exhibitors also will be features, while the two large halls in which the vehicles will be shown will be handsomely decorated, this portion of the project alone entailing an expense of $7,500.

Some idea of the magnitude of the show may be gained from the following list of exhibitors, many of whom will show three or four models of their respective cars:

Charles Behlen's Sons Company, Detroit electric pleasure cars and trucks; Cincinnati Automobile Company, Stutz and Pope-Hartford pleasure cars and trucks; Cincinnati Motor Truck Company, universal trucks; Citizens' Motor Car Company, Packard pleasure cars and trucks; Fischer Auto and Service Company, Chalmers, Locomobile and Saxon pleasure cars; Ford Motor Car Company, Ford; Franklin Motor Car Company, Franklin; Hanauer Automobile Company, Pierce-Arrow pleasure cars and trucks; Hellman Motor Car Company, Haynes pleasure cars and commerce trucks; Herschede Motor Car Company, Rauch & Lang electric; Imperial Motor Car Company, Stearns-Knight pleasure cars and Baker electric; Kentucky Motor Car Company, Oakland; Kruse Motor Car Company, Marmon and Maxwell pleasure cars and Kelly-Springfield trucks; Leveque two-cycle pleasure cars; Leyman-Bulck Company, Buick pleasure cars and Buick and Federal trucks; George C. Miller Sons, Cole pleasure cars and Standard electric; Ratterman Motor Car Company, Maxwell; Charles Schlar Motor Car Company, Hupmobile and Apperson; Stevens-Duryea Company, Stevens-Duryea pleasure cars; Towle-Cadillac Company, Cadillac; Welton Motor Car Company, Hudson pleasure cars; White Motor Car Company, White pleasure cars; Progressive Garage, Pathfinder pleasure cars; Rose Hill Garage, Ohio electric; Moore Oil Company; Paragon Refining Company, oils; Ten Broeck Tyre Company, tires; Eureka Resilient Wheel Company, metal and body polish; Dayton Rubber and Manufacturing Company, airless tires; Ohio Ford Shop, Ford specialties, Perkins-Campbell Company, seat covers; National Auto School, auto instruction, and others for whom spaces have been reserved. Dealers from this section, as well as many of our citizens interested in motor cars, have arranged to attend the show.

RECLAMATION PROJECT

South Overlooked in Appropriation for This Work.

News from Washington indicates that the neglect of the South in land reclamation work continues while the far West is getting more and more government aid and consideration.

The national government has expended approximately $75,000,000 on the reclamation of a little over 3,000,000 acres of land in the far West. It has spent nothing for the reclamation of the 75,000,000 acres of swamp and overflowed lands of the country, the most of which are in the Southern and Central States.

Secretary Lane, of the Interior Department, which has the irrigation work in charge, favors an appropriation of $100,000,000 for additional work but has said nothing in favor of public appropriations to aid in work of flood protection and the reclamation of the swamp and overflowed lands of sections in the South.

With a Southern man in the President's chair, a Southern man as Speaker of the House, and both Houses Southern in politics and the control in the hands of Southern men, it seems a crime that nothing is being done for land reclamation in the South and Central West.

The situation is all the more pathetic when it is recalled that the reclamation of the swamp and overflow lands and their protection from floods means much more to the whole United States than the reclaiming of a few million acres from the desert. It means many hundred million dollars in annual crops, the saving of more than a hundred million dollars a year in flood losses, the prevention of many deaths in floods and of many more needless deaths and inestimable suffering due to malaria and other diseases caused by the existence of swamps.

There is pending in Congress a measure that would do for the South and Central West all that the Reclamation or Irrigation Act has done for the arid West. It is the bill (H. R. 8189; Senate 7154) presented in the House by Speaker Clark and in the Senate by Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi. This is known as the Clark-Williams flood protection and drainage bill and is supported by the National Drainage Congress, whose next annual meeting is to be held at Savannah, Ga., April 22-25, 1914.

The Clark-Williams bill is not in conflict with either the Newlands River Regulation or the Ransdell-Humphreys Levee bills. It makes immediately available about $30,000,000 for flood protection and drainage work, placing the expenditure of this sum in the Department of the Interior. It is, in reality, an extension of the Arid Land Irrigation Act to include flood protection and drainage in the South and Central West and to put all of the country on an equal footing.

The Clark-Williams bill provides that the Secretary of the Interior shall make surveys and plans for flood protection and drainage projects; that he may undertake the construction of the work with the consent of the land owners and States, the cost to be repaid by a tax upon the lands, assessed and collected by the State authorities; or he may turn the plans over to the owners or States for them to carry into effect. It provides that the Secretary of the Interior may purchase the drainage bonds issued by the State or drainage district, at par, to supply the needed funds. It provides for co-operation between two or more States in the construction of interstate drainage of flood protection projects. It provides for co-operation between the Departments of War and the Interior when the question of navigation is involved.

In fact, the Clark-Williams bill will provide for the systematic, comprehensive and speedy reclamation of swamp and overflowed lands and their protection from disastrous floods. But this will not be done until our Southern Senators are Representatives awake to a realization of our interests and give their support to Speaker Clark and Senator Williams in procuring this or some similar bill. The United States Reclamation Service has established every precedent needed. Although the general opinion is that the arid lands reclamation by this service have been government owned lands this is not entirely true. Of the more than 3,000,000 acres so irrigated only about one third are government lands, the remainder being the property of individuals, corporations, Indians, States and even railroads. In fact in some projects where millions have been spent every acre is private land, the government advancing the money for the work and then doing it.

Bonds to the extent of $20,000,000 and bearing three per cent interest have been issued by the United States to provide additional funds for continuing these irrigation projects, and still more appropriations for the same purpose are being asked for.

Besides this the Interior Department has contracted with the Pacific coast States, Oregon, Washington and California, to undertake additional irrigation projects, the States and the government each to bear one half the expense. Secretary Lane has agreed to set aside $4,000,000 from the reclamation fund to co-operate with the State of Oregon in the construction of a main fund to co-operate with the State to appropriate a similar amount.

The only reason why the South is not receiving similar aid in the reclamation of its lowlands is because the Southern representatives in Congress have not demanded the necessary legislation.

For the benefit and delight of our readers at the Equator and the North Pole, we have to announce that this is the season when a change of 45 degrees in 10 hours is apt to come in this section of Kentucky.

COLDEST WEATHER OF WINTER EXPERIENCED IN THIS SECTION.

This section of the State has been in the grip of real winter weather for the past few days, and the coldest weather of the present winter has been the result. The sudden decline in the temperature began Thursday, and Friday one of the worst snowstorms that has visited this section in several years raged with fury for several hours.

Saturday the temperature went to the lowest point this winter when the mercury registered eight degrees above zero. Friday night the snow changed into rain and sleet, rendering traveling very difficult and doing considerable damage.

Telephone and telegraph wires in the city and county suffered to a great extent, and all the available men in the employ of both telephone companies were kept busy repairing the damage.

Unprotected stock in the county also suffered much from the extreme cold.

All incoming trains from both north and south have been delayed from thirty minutes to three hours by reason of weather conditions.

For the first time in several years sleighs have been in evidence since the heavy snow fall, and skaters enjoyed the sport on the creeks and the ponds.

COURT AFFIRMS LEG
PART OF HUMAN BODY

The leg is a part of the human body in Kentucky, so held and determined by the Court of Appeals, affirming the Jefferson Circuit Court in the case of the Louisville Railway Company vs. P. A. Veith, concerning which the Court said "the question is whether or not one's leg is a part of his body within the meaning of the pleading," and, further, that under the averment in the petition of "a great and lasting injury to all parts of plaintiff's body evidence of an injury to a leg and ankle of plaintiff is competent."

Veith was knocked from his wagon in Louisville on September 8, 1911, and recovered $450 damages. Judge Turner wrote the opinion affirming the verdict.

1,000 Dynamite Sticks Explode

Winchester—Explosion of 1,000 sticks of dynamite on the works of Johnson & Briggs, on a new railroad line to Irvine, two miles from the city, jarred all Winchester and considerable small damage was done. A large number of window panes were broken. No one was hurt.

Swinford Reappointed

Carlisle—Circuit Judge L. P. Fryer has reappointed U. M. Swinford, a lawyer of this city, as Master Commissioner and Receiver of the Nicholas Circuit Court for a term of four years. He is a son of M. C. Swinford, Mayor of Cynthiana.

Prohibition Laws

Carlisle—After being in session for nearly two weeks the Nicholas county grand jury has adjourned after returning into court thirty-six indictments. Eighteen of them are against persons charged with violations of the prohibition laws, and there are a large number of charges of carrying deadly weapons. There are two felony charges.

Effects of Drouth Perceptible

Elizabethtown—The effects of the drouth last summer and fall are still noticeable upon the water supply of Hardin county. Wells are being bored to a great depth in the place of the dry wells, in order to obtain water. The dry branches of the county, which are generally flooded at this season, are still without water and marshy lands, which are not suitable for plowing until the last of April, have already been broken in many parts of the county and ready for planting corn.

Poultry Expert to Lecture

Lexington—H. W. Rickey, of the Bureau of Animal Industries, United States Department of Agriculture, at Washington, has been secured to cooperate with the Experiment Station in the poultry department to do poultry club work in a few counties this year, and to give lectures wherever it is thought well to develop poultry interest. Mr. Rickey will work directly with the farmer boys and girls in the developing of individual poultry in this rather than with commercial poultrymen. Mr. Rickey graduated practical poultry work. He is from the agricultural college of Maryland, and has had wide experience in Kingston, R. I., where he was the head of the poultry demonstration in the College of Agriculture.

DORA BROCK HUNT DIES
AT AGE OF THIRTY-FIVE

Mrs. Dora Brock Hunt died Wednesday of tuberculosis at Wallace Station, in Woodford county. Mrs. Hunt was about thirty-five years of age and had been married five times.

Her first husband was the late General Cassius Marcellus Clay, the pioneer abolition leader, who in his old age retired to his estate, "White Hall," in Madison county, and was noted for his many eccentricities.

One of the things that completed the estrangement between General Clay and his near relatives was his marriage to Dora Brock, when she was a mere slip of a girl. She lived at White Hall with him for a few months, and then separated from him to marry a farm hand who lived in the same neighborhood.

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Moore is only one of the many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. SIMPLE ATTIRE AT ULTRA WEDDING

Various Developments of the Tunic Marks the Latest Styles

PLEATS A PARIS FANCY

NEW YORK, February 16.—Two extremes were evidenced at a recent wedding in one of New York's "Four Hundred": a simplicity of dress for bride, bridesmaids and flower girls, while the presents were elaborate and costly.

The little flower girls wore dresses of golden yellow chiffon in Empire style, and hats of yellow with flowing streamers of bronze-colored chiffon. On their dainty little feet were yellow socks and bronze slippers.

The eight bridesmaids wore dresses of embroidered net over yellow charmeuse, one of which I show in the first illustration. The surplice waist is daintily edged with a frill of lace. The tunic of net and the yellow charmeuse skirt have not the sanctioned up-till in front. Yellow stockings and bronze slippers are worn with this frock. Tucked in carelessly at one side of the belt is a single rose of yellow, with a center of blush pink. The hat worn with this costume was gracefully placed a little on one side, a yellow blush rose its only ornament.

Embroidered Net and Charmeuse Comprise This Charming Costume.

For the personification of virgin simplicity one had but to look at the girlish bride. She wore no long, white satin skirt, so fashionable a decade ago. Gone was the stately and heavy train! The gown was of tulle, caught at the waist in front with a group of six organ pleats. An Algerian jacket of embroidered chiffon, with long sleeves and graceful drapery, was fastened below the bust with a garland of orange blossoms. The trainless skirt accentuated the youthfulness of the bride. A veil of embroidered tulle was caught behind in a jeweled bandeau on the head, thus leaving the face exposed. A shower bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley completed the costume.

The little dress which is pictured in the second illustration was shown in a window of a prominent Fifth Avenue shop as a suggestion for a bride's maid's dress or a debutante's frock. The simple bodice of allover lace is unadorned, except for the dainty chiffon apple blossoms which outline the edge of the neck and front-closing. Two wide ruffles, placed diagonally from above one hip to below the other, accentuates the bouffant silhouette of the apple-green crepe de Chine skirt. A wide sash of apple blossom silk knots at one side, and the end falls gracefully to the knees. On the head is worn a Castle hat of lace to match the lace of the bodice, and trimmed with the apple-blossom pink-and-green ribbon.

The very latest and smartest mode of making a dressy skirt is to have one made with a pannier. There are several lengths given to these, some longer, some shorter. Taffeta, chiffon cloth and embroidered scrim are all appropriate materials for dresses with this type of skirt. The panniers are draped with considerable fullness at the hips, in order that the puffed effect may be obtained. The hem is drawn into the figure sharply, and the line of the waist is accentuated by a wide grille of satin or velvet ribbon, into which is tucked a vivid bunch of flowers.

Brides being pretty and graceful, this style conforms well with the up-to-date silhouette which we are affecting, and which shows no indication of changing.

Many new shirt waists are being shown in the shops. The favorite one seems to be of white chiffon cloth, a transparent fabric considerably heavier than chiffon, but with its soft and clinging qualities. The waist is made large and blousy, and the fullness at the neck is gathered upon a large silk cord, which ties loosely in the front. The sleeves are long and have turn-back cuffs. The tiny buttons are of black jet.

Two thicknesses of net make another charming waist, which is fastened with pearl buttons as large as a twenty-five cent piece. The turnover cuffs are fastened with two of these buttons, used as links, joined together with a tiny silk cord.

White serge skirts are worn with homespun jackets of brilliant and varied hues. Little soft hats of the same material in approved styles add distinction to this costume, so suitable to the health and vitality of our young women.

A noticeable feature of the spring styles is the tendency toward the circular rippling effect or godet flounces. Circular tunics are short in front, cut that they may ripple down the full length. The lining is almost as much in evidence as any outside portion of the dress.

Short coats have these godet flounces, graduated from front to back, so full that the wasteline is entirely lost in the undulations of the ruffle.

While the craze for narrow skirts was at its height, Redfern launched pleats. People looked, and, except for a few devoted clients turned their backs. He persisted, and this year pleats are to be seen everywhere and in almost every conceivable form. Do not be deluded into thinking that this means greater width at the hem of the skirt, for it does not. If they are put in the lower part of the skirt they are laid flat, and caught with a rubber or tape to keep them from being misplaced.

Ruffles Are Quite the Smartest Trimming for a Dancing Frock or a Bridesmaid's Dress.

Accordion-pleated tunics are finished with a double box-pleated ruffle of ribbon or pinked silk, and they stand out conservatively and only resemble slightly the lampshade tunics Paul Poiret accidentally but successfully launched last fall.

The high standing collars which go by the name of L'Aiglon, Medici and Romney, are worn by a majority of women, but they do not look well on every one. The fichu, or large hem-stitched square of sheer linen or chiffon cloth, is much more becoming to the majority of faces. The wired collar of lace is still very popular. Its newest guise is in linen, stiffly starched to stay erect without the aid of boning.

There is a difference between a woman who is well-dressed and a woman who is entirely "chic." The former may have up-to-date clothes of the finest materials, but the latter keeps an eye upon all the dainty accessories that cost no inconsiderable sum, and may be the last word today and a bygone fad tomorrow.

Saying he had received $250 for a graduation present 18 years ago, got drunk and had remained intoxicated ever since, William O'Neill hailed his son John, 38, before Magistrate Freschi in New York.

A girl who wore a bustle as accessory to a bathing suit was laughed off the stage at the live model parade at the garment makers' convention in New York, recently, relegating that fashion to the discard.

After confessing to cracking a safe, Frank Guccini, eighteen, in St. Louis, offered to show where the loot was hidden, led a policeman to a sewer manhole, had the cop lift the heavy cover, and then gave the cop the laugh, dived in and escaped, a la Jean Valjean.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md. — "I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health." — Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SENATE VOTES TO GIVE LINCOLN BUST TO LIBRARY

The State Senate Thursday adopted a joint resolution offered by Senator Samuel L. Robertson, of Louisville, providing for the removal of a marble bust of Abraham Lincoln from the rotunda of the Capitol to the Louisville Free Public Library. The only vote against the resolution was cast by Senator Speer, whose facetious remark, "I am opposed to giving up anything that Frankfort already has," caused considerable amusement.

Not a vote was cast against the joint resolution introduced by Senator C. H. Knight, of Louisville, providing for the adoption of the "Legislative Digest" as the official publication of the General Assembly.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Upset Stomachs Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary (adv)

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't act or eat naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has direction for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of the counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. (adv)

All Growing Children
are dependent on nourishment for growth. Their health as men and women is largely established in childhood.
If your child is languid, bloodless, tired when rising, without ambition or rosy cheeks, Scott's Emulsion is a wonderful help. It possesses nature's grandest body-building fats so delicately predigested that the blood absorbs its strength and carries it to every organ and tissue and fibre.
First it increases their appetite, then it adds flesh—strengthens the bones—makes them sturdy, active and healthy.
No alcohol or narcotic in Scott's Emulsion, just purity and strength.

MATRIMONIAL.

—Mr. Trimble Arnold, aged about sixty-five years, died at the Confederate Home, at Pewee Valley, Saturday morning, following a protracted illness of tuberculosis.

Mr. Arnold resided here for many years, and was a relative of the family of United States Senator Garrett Davis, of this city. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in the Confederate service and was with the company organized by Col. E. F. Clay and was later with Col. Clay's regiment.

Mr. Arnold spent most of his time after leaving Paris with relatives in Covington and Cincinnati until the establishment of the Confederate Home, where he was admitted. He was a great lover of music and devoted to his violin.

The body was brought here for burial yesterday morning, the services being held at the grave in the Paris cemetery at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. G. H. Harris, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot.

—The annual Junior reception of the M. M. I. was held Saturday from 7 to 10 in the main building of the college. Notwithstanding the inclement weather the greater part of the large number of invitations sent out were responded to. The occasion brought forth all pertaining to Valentine Day. The building was decorated in military style. The Junior class, consisting of twenty-two members, with Col. Best at its head, occupied a position in the library. The Juniors all wore Valentine caps. A committee of ladies of the town assisted in entertaining. About nine o'clock the spacious dining room was thrown open. The center tables were decorated with cut flowers. Brick cream, cakes and mints were served, all in hearts, and carrying out the color scheme, which was pink and white. Napkins with valentine emblems were given each guest, and the souvenirs were pinned on while refreshments were being served, which were hearts for the ladies and keys for the gentlemen. Special places were set apart for the Juniors in the dining room and after most of the guests had taken their places, the Juniors fled into the places assigned them, each member accompanied by a lady. After refreshments various amusements were indulged in, the most amusing of which was the police court. This proved very interesting, with Mr. O. E. Hurst as police judge and Mr. W. V. Shaw as policeman. Various guests were arrested by Mr. Shaw and taken before "Judge" Hurst. Mr. Shaw charging them with something and "Judge" Hurst imposing the penalty. These penalties furnished considerable amusement. The occasion was a delightful one, filled with good humor and good cheer, and will always be remembered among the many pleasant events that Mrs. C. M. Best has had for us in the past twenty years.

—Mr. Thomas McClintock attended county court at Mt. Sterling, Monday.

—Mrs. W. S. Judy and little son, John, returned from Richmond Saturday, where they had been with Mr. Judy since Christmas. Mr. Judy is bopping on the loose leaf market there. He will return here Feb. 28, following the close of the market in that city.

—Our community was somewhat surprised early Monday morning when it was learned that Mr. Andrew Jackson Thaxton had gone to Rockland, New York, to be married to Miss Grace Mingus. This young couple had been sweethearts nearly two years and while it was generally known by their intimate friends that their marriage would take place soon, no one realized that their courtship would reach its climax this week. Mr. Thaxton has kept this a secret and it is not now even known the exact date of the wedding. The only thing that he has given out to a few of his most intimate friends is that it will take place this week.

Mr. Thaxton is one of our prominent and prosperous young farmers. He is about 23 years old and his bride about the same age. He owns a farm with a handsome country home, just within the suburbs of Millersburg, on the Maysville pike. He is a graduate of M. M. I. and also of Kentucky State University, at Lexington, making a study of agriculture a specialty while in the latter institution. For two years he was employed by the directors of the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington and the State Fair at Louisville, as foreman of the dairy department. He is a young man of considerable wealth other than the farm he owns and since he has been in possession of his estate he has been a pronounced success. Miss Mingus came here in September, 1912, as a teacher of Domestic Science at the M. F. C. She was here but a short time when this young couple met.

She is a young lady attractive to behold, highly educated, and comes from a prominent family. This young couple will begin life under most brilliant prospects. Mr. Thaxton will get possession of his house about March 1. He proposes to make it a model residence. Until this is done he and his wife will take board at the Taylor House.
